As the tenant of a National Trust property Stoneacre in Kent she has recreated a cottage garden.

Susan Ashton MSGD
The Lodge, Pytts Lane, Burford, Oxfordshire, OX18 4SJ
 Tel: +44 (0) 1993 822114 mail@susanashton.co.uk

My aim as a designer is to identify the relationship between my clients, their house and garden, and their surroundings, and translate it into a lasting design. I use traditional materials and imaginative planting to create a timeless feel, resulting in a garden at peace with itself. I have created gardens of all sizes, but the majority of my commissions are for country gardens, where I often develop and implement the design over time as the owners' needs evolve.

Dana Assinder MSGD
Bishops Chambers, 14 Cathedral Close, Exeter, Devon, EX1 1HA
 tel +44 (0) 1392 211 996 dana@dkagardendesign.co.uk www.dkagardendesign.co.uk

A client focused design practice developing contemporary, creative and sustainable spaces. Dana's portfolio includes commissions from prestigious private and commercial clients, with whom she enjoys an evolving dialogue. She responds to the unique potential of every site, creating engaging new landscapes in rural and urban locations. Creativity, attention to detail, environmental sensitivity and informed planting are practice priorities. Dana studied sculpture and horticulture before training in garden design with John Brookes FSGD. Her office is in central Exeter.

Caroline Davy MSGD

Slate Cottage, Newton Lane, Newton Valence, Alton, Hampshire GU34 3RE

tel +44 (0) 1420 588034 info@carolinedavy.co.uk www.carolinedavy.co.uk

Caroline's gardens fuse contemporary ideas with traditional elements and materials. A passion for art and horticulture fosters the creation of gardens that look good and grow well. The design evolves through analysis of the site, reference to the architecture and interpretation of the owner's requirements. The result is a garden that is both personal and appropriate. Strong shapes and geometric lines form the core of the design with swathes of lush planting providing contrast and texture to the composition.
