

SGD Awards 2017 Shortlist Announced

The Society of Garden Designers has announced the finalists for The SGD Awards 2017. A shortlist of 33 has been announced across 13 award categories, including a sensory woodland garden at a children's hospice, a public garden designed as a contemporary playscape at a Historic Royal Palace, and a roof garden on one of the largest roof terraces in London.

Chosen by an independent judging panel drawn from experts across the industry, the projects represent some of the very best in garden design from right across the UK and abroad.

The shortlisted projects in the three Residential Garden categories and in the International, Public & Communal Outdoor Space,

Coach House garden by Jane Brockbank
MSGD ©Marianne Majerus

Garden Jewel and Roof Garden categories will now be entered into the People's Choice Award, which opened for votes on 1 October via the SGD Awards website. The same finalists will also be competing for the highly coveted Grand Award, which will be decided by the main judging panel.

The winners of all 19 awards, including the Lifetime Achievement Award, the Grand Award, the Judges' Award and the People's Choice Award, will be revealed at The SGD Awards ceremony on Friday 2nd February 2018. The event, which returns to London's Landmark Hotel for a third year, promises to be the highlight of the garden design calendar. Tickets for the ceremony are now on sale.

Tyro Hill House by Matt Keightley MSGD
©Marianne Majerus

To see details of all the shortlisted projects in the main award categories, visit the SGD Awards website – www.sgdawards.com – www.sgd.org.uk